More and more young people spend most of their time playing computer games. How can we help children to overcome this addiction? Let's talk about what is addiction, ^{addicted people and habits}

At first, how young people get addiction to computer games. In my opinion, ^{every day} most of children who play video games ~~are~~ are people, ~~which~~ who don't have enough social skills to talk with real people, who likes being alone or people, who thinks that their accounts or certain items in computer games cost more than their own lives. In result, we get people who don't care about their social life, they don't study at school and get bad marks. And I suggest some of them ~~later can be~~ would spend all money on Blackjack or slot machines.

But how we can help addicted children? I think, we can give them new experience, like some kind of sports games or activities. Also, they should start talking ~~this~~ with real people ^{of} their age. In my opinion, they should visit social events at their cities. And we must show that life is not just spending all the time at collecting items at video games. I think, life is a lot of possibilities for everyone and we must spend or time wisely. 15 25 35 45 55 65
